

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, October 13. 1706.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated October 15.

Venice, Oct. 1.

THE 2 Men of War belonging to this Republick that went to the Dardanelles, take on board the Chevalier  on his Return from his Embassy to Constantinople, are come back hither: And that Minister with all his Retinue are gone into our old Lazaretto, to make their Quarantine according to Custom. The Nobles Erizzo and Pisani are getting ready to be gone by the End of this Month with a numerous Retinue, for the Court of England, in Quality of Envoys Extraordinary from this Republick. All the Talk here, is of the great Revolution that has happen'd in the Milanese, in Consequence, of the Victory obtain'd over the French before Turin the 7th of last Month. When Prince Vaudemont retir'd from Milan on the Approach of the Imperial Army under Prince Eugene of Savoy, he carry'd with him 80000 Pistoles that were in the Palace in that City. A little after, he dispatch'd several Expresses to the Senate, ordering them to follow him to Cremona with the Tribunals, threatening that in case of Refusal they should be declar'd Rebels: After this he sent his chief Aide de Camp, to give them Notice not to delay one Moment to be obedient to those Commands; and to summon the Magistrates of the City to furnish him with a great Sum of Money under Pain of military Execution. But all this has been to no Purpose; and Prince Eugene being arriv'd the 24th of last Month near the City, sent a Summons by the Count of Beauford, attended by a Trumpeter, requiring them to surrender: Upon which the Magistrates sent a Deputation to him of several Members of their Body to make their Submission and carry him the Keys of their City. The Town and Castle of Lodi submitted likewise on the Approach of a Detachment of the Army under Prince Eugene. The French and Spanish Officers that are at Castiglione delle Stivere, have sent their Baggage to Mantua and Cremona; which makes it believ'd they intend to abandon the first of those Places. The Hereditary Prince of Hesse Cassel with the Body of Troops under his Command had made a Motion in order to pass the Po: But having receiv'd a Counter-Order from Prince Eugene, he is return'd to Canda: And 'tis said he will march and attack agen Castiglione and Goiro: But that is very uncertain.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated October 12.

Vienna, Sept. 29. For several Days past we have had no News from the Army under Count Guido Staremberg, nor from that under General Rabutin: but we hope every Hour to hear of their Junction, and that they have undertaken something of Moment against the Malecontents of Hungary: who some Days ago made an Excursion almost as far as Oedenburg, from whence they took some Cattle; and the Horse we had in the neighbouring Lines pursuing them a little too far, some Troopers were surrounded and kill'd. General Heister continues with his Troops near Furstenweld on the Frontier of Stiria, to observe the Troops of the Malecontents, who are intrench'd near Steyn on the Anger.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Octob. 15.

Vienna, Octob. 2. The Marquis of Vanbonne went from hence on Wednesday last to return to our Army in Italy: He carry'd with him a Sword the Hilt of which is set with Diamonds of great Value, being a Present from the Emperor to P. Eugene, in Acknowledgment of the great Services he has render'd his Imperial Majesty in particular, and the common Cause in general, by his expeditious Vigilance in marching to the Relief of Turin, and by the glorious Victory he obtain'd over the Enemies Army, who had kept that Place Besieg'd near three Months and a half. Yesterday was celebrated at the Court, with much splendor and rejoicing, the Anniversary of the Birth of Charles III. who then enter'd into the 21st Year of his Age: And this Joy was increas'd in the Afternoon by the Arrival of Prince Pio, first Aide de Camp to Prince Eugene of Savoy, with the Joyful News that in Consequence of the Victory near Turin, the Towns of Trino, Vercelli, Casal, Chivas, Ivrea, Crescentino, Verue and the Fort of Bard, had surrender'd to the Forces of the Emperor and of the Allies; that the Cities of Novara and Milan have done the like; and that when he, Prince Pio, came away the Citadel of Milan had offer'd to Capitulate. We have not yet any News from the Armies under Count Guido Staremberg, and General Rabutin: but we receiv'd the ill News two Days ago, that the Governour of Gran had for want of Provisions been forc'd to surrender that Place to the Malecontents, and that he and his Garrison are conducted to Comorra. The Inhabitants of Oedenburg have presented a Petition to the Emperor beseeching his Imperial Majesty, to permit them to give a Sum of Money to the Malecontents, that they may get in their Vintage without any Molestation: this Vintage promising more than any they have had for several years past: but this Request has been deny'd.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Oct. 9.

From the Camp at Weiffembourg, Sept. 26. The Enemy continue still encamp'd at Hagenbach, where they suffer much for want of Forrage, and because they lye in a marshy Ground, where a great Number of their Soldiers fall sick. Since the Soldiers of the King's Army encamp'd here in a better Air, their Distempers wear off and they recover daily. 'Tis believ'd the Enemies will soon repass the Rhine. And that they came on this side that River only with design to withdraw their Troops from the Camp at Stollhoffen, which which is grown a sickly Place by the long stay they have made there; as likewise to succour Landau, into which Place they have thrown a great Quantity of Provisions, and chang'd the Garrison; and to secure the Inhabitants of that Town in getting in their Vintage. Prince Lewis of Badea who has been dangerously ill at Mentz, is now well nigh recover'd, and has sent an Officer to Marshal Villars to propose to him to treat of the Exchange of Prisoners, to which the said Marshal has consented, and the Commissioners on both sides will soon meet to consult about it. 'Tis hop'd that by this Means all the French Prisoners that are in Germany, will be releas'd, Marshal Villars having taken 3500 from the Enemy this Campaign and the last.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Oct. 15.

From the Camp at Hagenbach, Oct. 8. A Courier who was dispatch'd to the Court of Vienna is lately return'd hither. 'Tis likely the Army will continue in this Camp till the End of the Month, notwithstanding we want Forrage, and though the Ground is marshy. The Prince of Baden is return'd to Rastat being pretty well recover'd of his Indisposition. General Schulenburg went thither Yesterday to confer with his Highness concerning the 2 or 3000 Saxons and Muscovites, who are arriv'd in the Neighbourhood of Frankfort, with design to join our Army.

Plymouth, October 8. To Day came in the Expedition of Dartmouth bound for Oporto, which left the Fleet commanded by Sir Cloudesly Shovell on Sunday last, 40 Leagues to the Westward of the Lizard, in good Order.
